a Rank Failure - The War, at Carried on by Spain, the Most Cruel the Civilized World Has Ever Known.

WASHINGTON, March 23.-In accordance with notice, Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, addressed the senate on the condition of Cuba. Mr. Gallinger recently returned from a visit to the island, and he received the careful attention of everyone within sound of

In opening his speech, Mr. Gallinger and touching statement concening Cuba made in the senate recently by Mr. the efforts made by the Cubans were driven from their homes into the in 1829, in 1844, in 1848, in cities and towns. 1850, in 1851, in 1868, and again in 1895, lish for themselves a free government "upon the soil that was rightly theirs." Save the last, all these efforts have ended in failure. That failure is history, and need not be recounted.

Mr. Gallinger then detailed some of the events leading up to his arrival in Caba, and of his reception by Consul-

General Lee. "Gen. Lee," said he, "is deserving of the highest possible praise for the manper in which he carries himself in Hasight of the fact that he is an American citizen, nor is he unmindful of the of his position.

Referring to his call upon the autonomist cabinet, Mr. Gallinger said it was evident that the president of the cabinet was not encouraged in the

Mr. Gallinger recalled that he had nials made that a state of war existed that war actually did exist. A desocould be conveyed in words.

"The scenes in the streets of Havana are harrowing beyond description. People in want and suffering are everywhere seen, and walking skeletons diseased and starving men throng the place of public resort. It is a terrible sight-one that sickens the heart and quickens every impulse of human sympathy and love."

War of Extermination. Under the very shadow of cathedrals and churches, where Spain's authority is absolutely unquestioned, the most horrible conditions are conceded to exist. Many have refused to believe that a great government was waging a war of extermination, instead of a war of honor, yet such is an absolute fact. A visit was paid to the orphanage which is now under the care of Miss Clara Barton. It contains now about fifty children, almost every one of whom is a victim of starvation. Dr. Lesser, one of Miss Barton's assistants, has had experience in the Armenian and Indian famines, but he declares the famine in Cuba is worse than that in Armenia, and pictures he drew of the terrible suffering and starvation in the island more than confirm all that has been written up the subject.

A detailed story of a visit to Los Focas, the place where the reconcentradoes daily assemble to get food, was also given. A few weeks ago, when Miss Barton discovered the place, there were 645 people lying on the floors, many of them entirely nude and suffering the pangs of starvation. Much has been done by the Red Cross society to alleviate the condition of those who and children are yet there, gaunt and bony almost as a skeleton, many of them covered with sores directly traceable to insufficient food.

"What a chapter of horrors and death is that!" continued the senator. "And still the tragedy goes on. How much longer it shall continue largely depends upon the forbearance of a great people who, through suffering and sorrow, achieved their own independence, and whose sympathies have always gone out to the oppressed of all na-

A vivid picture was then drawn by Matanzas. All along the route were wretched people in rags, but not until the city was reached was the full extent of the suffering realized.

"It occurred to me, as I looked upon the scenes of suffering and horrors, behold such suffering, and never again do I expect to see such havoc wrought through a cruel and inhuman decree.

"A visit to the Matanzas hospitals revealed an even more shocking condition than the streets. Members of the Red Cross society who had visited one of the hospitals two weeks before were almost overcome upon discovering that nearly every one of the inmates at that time had since died. There poverty, sorrow and suffering were depicted in their worst forms; children, gaunt in face, but with abdomen and limbs terribly swollen, women in the last stages of emaciation and men there were rapidly drifting to death. If there was food in these hospitals I did not discover it; neither were their signs of medicine or of proper nursing and care."

The governor of Matanzas informed Mr Gallinger that the first day he ocsaid that, after the calm, dispassionate cufied the palace 15 persons had died in the court-yard. He said further that in the city 1,200 had died in November, Proctor, of Vermont, it might be as 1,200 in December, 700 in January and well for him to remain silent, but, 500 in February. The death rate was yielding to the desire expressed by decreasing, simply because the reconmany of his colleagues, he had con- centrados, by death, were becoming serted to give a plain recital of fewer. The number of people who have some of his observations on that starved in Cuba will never be definitely "anhappy island." He referred to known. It is estimated that 800,000

This, however, I do know: A government that will deliberately starve 400,000 of its own people will do pretty much anyvana. Cool and fearless in the midst of thing. If the ship was blown up difficulties and dangers, he never loses from the outside, what should our government do? Perhaps I should forbear to discuss that question now; but tremendous responsibilities and duties | this I will venture to say: Human life purposely taken can not be paid for in gold or silver. Mark my words, 'purposely taken,' and if it shall appear that such was the fate of 250 brave American sailors, then Heaven pity the guilty parties. It will not be a question for arbitration, but a question involving the dignity and honor of this

We have patrolled our coast in the interest of Spain as long as we should, and we have spent quite too much money in protecting our people from epidemic diseases coming to our shores because of the unsanitary condition of the harbor and city of Havana. Spain has failed to meet the requirements of advanced civilization. Let the United States or Cuba take up the problem and solve it."

Practical.

The great Marchesi, like other famous singers, was the recipient of valuable gifts from an admiring public. Many of these were of a perishable nature, and some were rich and rare; one only bore the character of absolute practicality. During a concert tour in Switzerland, there was one concert in which the prima donna was especially brilliant. She sang a varied programme; a song from Handel, an Italian air, some German songs; and not only through the greatness, but the still remain, but scores of men, women | diversity of her gifts, roused the audience to a tremenduous pitch of enthusiasm. Many of them crowded up to her when the concert was over, overwhelming her with the profusion of flowers they brought. After the crowd had dispersed, a bashful-looking girl came up, holding a parcel in her hand. 'You delighted me so very much at your last concert," said she, "that today I should like to express my admiration for you in person. Flowers, however, fade. I, therefore, beg to offer you a lasting and practical souvenir which will keep me in your memory." With these words, she unwrapped a Mr. Gallinger of a trip to the city of silver soup-ladle, presented it, and disappeared .- Youth's Companion

HIGH-WATER MARK.

The Tide of Business This Year Is Much Higher Than It Was

In a business sense the country has advanced to a position hitherto untouched. Along until a month or two ago the year 1892 represented the top of the industrial wave. Immediately afterward the tide sharply fell, and for two or three years it was at the cbb stage. In 1895 the tide again began to rise, but it was checked and sent downward by the Bryanite menace in 1896. The downward lurch was stopped by the honest money victory in the latter part of that year. A slow but perceptible rise in the business tide began a year ago, when that party resurved power. The movement gained momentum a little over ment gained momentum a little over half a year ago, when the party's industrial legislation went into operation. Since the beginning of the present year it has reached a higher mark than was ever before touched. This is the story which present conditions tell. In bank clearances in the country at large February figures beat those of that month in 1892 to the extent of six per cent. It did this, too, in the face of the fact that that month of 1892 had the largest clearings ever scored in any February In the country's history, and in the face of the further fact that February in 1892 had one more business day than it had in 1898. Railroad earnings at the present time are beating all former figures, and the tendency, as in bank clearings, continues upward. Merchandise exports exceed imports to a greater extent than ever before at this time of the year. Iron production for two months past has been at the largest figures ever reached. The immense totals of the railroad earnings mean more than appears on the surface for prices of transportation are lower than they were before the panic of 1893 occurred. The same fact as regards many staple articles renders the increase in bank transactions, as indicated by clearances, especially significant Seldom at this season does gold importation take place. A few hundred thousand dollars came in in this month in 1896 and 1897, but for several previous years the tide was in the other direction. Over $6,000,000 of gold, however, has recently started for this coun try, and some of it has arrived. There is no special need for this inflow, for the banks are, on the whole, better supwere in the past, and the treasury's fund, which has just crossed the $168,-000,000 mark, is at a higher line than was reached before since the middle of 1890. To keep up the favorable exhibit which is made in all directions the revcaue is expanding at a rate not dreamed of by even the most hopeful of the Dingley act's framers at the outset. February, 1898, showed a handsome surplus which is the first time in several years that receipts in that month exceeded exaddition to all this, the interest on the much higher line than has yet been touched. Surpluses instead of deficits will probably be the rule hereafter, exexpenditures. As 1892 has been surpassed in bank clearings and railroad earnings, 1879, the year in which the relative business activity and prosperity of the past reached its high-water mark, will probably soon be left behind. -St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The administration is prompt to notify all whom it may concern that the $50,000,000 appropriation must not be wasted or extravagantly drawn upon. This affords pleasing assurance that the administration appreciates its responsibility and proposes to justify the unbounded confidence put upon it. -Boston Herald (Ind. Dem.).

IT It is evident that the Altgeld democrats mean to draw the line sharply from now on on the silver question. They have made it plain that a man must be for sixteen to one or he is no democrat, all of which portends a more clearly defined line of cleavage in the already sadly disorganized democratic party since the number of those who believe that sixteen to one is a dead issue, or that it is not wise to insist too strongly upon any particular ratio, is rapidly increasing. If these men are to be read out of the party there will be even less of it left after the next campaign than there was after the disastrous defeat of '96 .- Peoria Trans-What Alls Mr. Bryan's State?

If William J. Bryan still has his face turned toward 1900 he should take steps forthwith to abolish the Nebraska bureau of industrial statistics. For what shall it profit a calamity wailer to go up and down in the land preaching of industrial depression if the official statisticians of his own state sow broadcast the glad tidings of returning prosper ity? According to a statement just is sued by the Nebraska state bureau, covering the last six months of 1897, there were 5,673 farm mortgages filed in Nebraska, aggregating $5,576,733 of inrepresenting a total debt cancellation of $7,557,392. There were also 2,252 city mortgages filed, representing $1,-890,830, and 3,969 city mortgages released, representing $4,245,918. The gold standard is still in full effect and the Nebraska farmers actually are paying their debts and getting rich under it. Something should be done about this at once.—Chicago Times-Herald.

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for seeming extravagance in the statement if you know that the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to her the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There can't be anything better. No medicine can do more than cure. That is why John S. Goode, of Orrick, Mo., writes in these strong terms: a common experience to have Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla prescribed by a physician. It is a common experience to see a "complete cure" follow the use of a few bottles of this great blood purifying medicine.

Because, it is a specific for all forms of blood disease. If a disease has its origin in bad or impure blood, Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparila, acting directly on the blood, removing its impurities and giving to it vitalizing energy, will promptly eradicate the disease. "Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best med-icine in the world. My daughter had a relapse after the measles, due to taking cold. She was nearly blind, and was obliged to remain in a dark room all the time. The doctors could give her no relief; one of them directed me to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Two bottles cured her com-pletely."

the disease.

The great feature of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the radical cures that result from its use. Many medicines only suppress disease—they push the pimples down under the skin, they paint the complexion with subtle arsenical compounds, but the disease rages in the veins like a pent-up fire, and some day breaks out in a volcanic eruption that eats up the body. Ayer's Sarsaparilla goes to the root. It makes the fountain clean and the waters are clean. It makes the root good and the fruit is good. It gives Nature the elements she needs to build up the broken down constitution—not to brace it up with stimulants or patch it up on the surface. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook, and learn The thousands of testimonials to the value of Dr. Ayer's Barsaparilla repeat over and over again, in one form or another the expression: "The doctors gave her no relief; one of them directed me to give her Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Two bottles completely cured her."

It is a common experience to try Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a last resort. It is J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
